skills4studycampus is a fully interactive e-learning resource, designed to help students develop and hone the study skills they need to succeed. Based on the work of bestselling author Stella Cottrell, skills4studycampus is suitable for students on all courses and levels.

- DIAGNOSTIC TESTS help students focus on their personal learning needs
- INTERACTIONS encourage students to engage actively with the content
- MY JOURNAL AND PRACTICE ACTIVITIES promote reflection and sharpen skills
- MODULE ASSESSMENTS track progress and provide future direction.

skills4studycampus can be accessed or launched from your existing learning environment and many subscribers choose to make it part of their VLE. Subscribing institutions will enjoy 24/7 access for unlimited simultaneous users.

skills4studycampus can be used flexibly for self-study or as part of a taught course, and customised to feature your institution's branding and content.

Design your own bespoke subscription to skills4studycampus. Tailor the resource for your students by choosing the modules that fit their needs best.

- Writing skills
- Referencing and understanding plagiarism
- Getting ready for academic study
- Groupwork and presentations
- Time management
- Reading and note-making
- Exam skills
- Critical thinking skills
- Employability and personal development
- Projects, dissertations and reports

The more modules you choose, the greater the discount you will receive. This means that if you want to offer all modules to your students, you can do so at a very competitive price. If you want a smaller selection this can be a cost effective way to deliver study skills training. Subscriptions start with a minimum of three modules.

skills4studycampus is available for institutional subscription for 1 or 3 years. Please contact your librarian or learning resources manager and contact us for a quote:
