

Figure 3.3 Stages of democratization

Democratization can be separated into the final stages of: liberalization, transition, consolidation and deepening. However, as the notion of an unconsolidated democracy implies, reaching the fourth stage is far from guaranteed.

